

2019 Circular Economy Stakeholder Conference: EU commission together with stakeholders to discuss on Success Stories and New Challenges

The European Commission and the European Economic and Social Committee will host the 2019 European Circular Economy Stakeholder Conference on March 6 and 7 in Brussels.

The Conference is the main gathering of the European circular economy community and it will set the ground for new horizons in the circular economy and give participants the opportunity to grow their network of circular partners.

The conference will explore the action plan's implementation as a successful framework for the transition, while discussing policies to capitalise on the current global momentum. It will also widen the discussion to consider the circular economy as an enabler to achieve the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda.

This year the conference will be organized on the same format of the past edition:

Day 1, to be hosted by the European Commission, will explore the Circular Economy Action Plan as a successful framework for the transition, while discussing policies to capitalise on the current global momentum. It will also widen the discussion to consider the circular economy as an enabler to achieve the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda.

Day 2 will be hosted by the EESC and is being prepared jointly with the Coordination Group members of the European Circular Economy Stakeholder Platform. This day will feature eight different participatory workshops, whose purpose is to share successes and identify new challenges.

Check here the Draft programme for Day 1 and Day 2

If you want to be kept in the loop you can Subscribe to the European Circular Economy Stakeholder Platform newsletter!

Have a look at previous editions:

- 2017: One year after the adoption, working together for the future
- 2018: Delivering on the Circular Economy – What's Next